An organised route through the work

1. Provide the instruction details

Send your organisation and contact, the property location, the damage description and any claim or client reference. Explain whether you require investigation, a quotation or work against an existing scope.

2. Agree scope and authority

Identify who can authorise the work, relevant approval limits, access arrangements and required reporting. Scope, price and commercial arrangements must be confirmed before the corresponding work proceeds.

3. Keep the job information together

Approved client organisations can use the portal for job references, photographs and documents, quotations with acceptance or decline, appointments, client-visible updates and completion information.

See the public portal walkthrough. Its fictional examples explain the workflow without exposing client data.

4. Record completion and follow-up

Agree the completion information required for the instruction, including work carried out and any outstanding or follow-up items. Changes to the scope should be discussed with the authorised contact.

Before placing an instruction

Confirm availability, required insurance certificates, qualifications, procurement documentation and commercial terms directly with Premier. This introduction is not an insurance certificate, a quotation, an insurer-panel claim or a service-level commitment. A referral does not establish insurance cover.
